The Challenge

Overcoming Distributed Challenges: Uniting Main Design Teams Across Multiple Locations

Before engaging with Peer Software, the main design office, which spans across two distinct districts in Cairo, faced a significant challenge. The necessity for both teams to access and work on files simultaneously was crucial for operations.

Peer Software emerged as the optimal solution to ensure active updates and seamless collaboration between both sites throughout the day, enabling efficient work sharing and collaboration. The improved synchronization and file management have led to a more structured workflow, reducing errors and improving overall project quality.
